Customer Reviews

After this box set its only individual books. I'm not sure why there are no boxes for books 13+, but books 9-12 are here and ready to take their young readers as far as the furthest corners of the galaxy! What makes this collection so great is the choices it gives kids. Like the two previous, all the books have fun art and good writing, but it's the choices that sell this series. Set a stack in front of a kid and stand back! Just make sure you don't tell them they are really learning. Bad news though, like I said, its individual books from here on out.

I bought these for my son, I hope that he likes them as much as I did as a kid. It's not just the ending that you choose, you choose your path for the story as you read along. If you've ever felt like you wish the characters in a story would do what you wanted them to, these books are for you.

Great for the reluctant reader! My son enjoys being able to influence the stories. The font used is large and read easily. Pages that are full of small font words only are a bit daunting sometimes.

Shorter length of text and pictures make it a more attractive option for my son.

This was bought for my 8 year old grandson at the request of his father, who had read the "Choose Your Own Adventure" series as a boy. Nathan loves them and re-reads the whole story each time choosing a different ending. He thinks it's the neatest thing he's ever read!!!!

This series of books offers young readers multiple options for a different ending of the same story and it's all based on their choices. Kids love them!

I liked these as a kid when reading was not a fun pass time for me. I bought them for my kids (books 1-12) and they love them.

Great books for the kids that allow multiple story lines. These are great books for kids who are starting to read that provides different stories each time they are read.

Students like to make their own decisions by 3rd/4th grade. They enjoy making choices in these adventures to determine how the book will end.
